Donaidson Seeks Legal Help To Get Expenses From County

Former Coffee County Tax Assessor, Fred Donaldson, has acquired the legal services of Enterprise attorney Joe Pittman, in his continuing attempt to gain reimbursement for money paid by him to extra clerical help during the recent tax reappraisal program.

Pittman was present at the County Commission meeting on Monday, June 26, and then told the commission that Mr. Donaldson retired because he did not have a choice from an economic standpoint.

"I have filed a claim in behalf of Mr. Donaldson for the extra clerical help he used during the tax reappraisal program," stated Pittman.

"A recent Attorney General's ruling stated the county could reimburse the tax assessor to check the expense of additional office help."

Commissioner Benjie Beekham asked "How much of the claim is valid? If we owe Mr. Donaldson money, we need validated facts showing just what we owe. We want to do what's right, but what is right?"

Pittman told the commission that Donaldson paid out $13,746.30 to extra help for the initial three months of 1978. The commission told Mr. Pittman that when he had completed a complete listing of the records, they would meet with him and Mr. Donaldson, and discuss the matter in detail. No date was set for the meeting.

The meeting actually began at 10 a.m. at the courthouse annex in Enterprise, with all commissioners present. The first order of business was to open bids on two tractors and a rotary mower to be used in the Highway Department. Bids received were: Rose Hill Tractor Co. - $885.66 each for tractors, and $485.64 on the mower; Metcalf Tractor Co. - $797.03 each for tractors, and $499.00 on the mower; Adams Farm Supply - $931.00 each for one model tractor and $888.25 each for another model; Wells Tractor Co. - $875.00 each for tractors and $465.00 for the mower; and Elba Tractor Co. - $852.00 each for the tractors, and $939.50 for the tractors with a different size set of tires.

The commission delayed awarding a contract until Friday, June 29, at 3:00 p.m. at the courthouse annex in Enterprise.

Bids were also received on pipe, with four companies bidding. Bids were received from Southern Culvert, Fayco, Brown Pipe Company, and Choctaw. The commission will also award this contract on Friday, June 30.

Mrs. Hazel Clark appeared at the bi-monthly meeting and said "It is almost impossible to get to my house on the Tac 1 road. The ditch and sewer pipe need cleaning out, and my driveway is impassable." Mrs. Clark stated she had been to the engineer's office six times with no success. Engineer Leslie Mullins told Mrs. Clark he would look into her problem.

Mr. Joe Meadows and Mr. J. C. Grant, representatives of the Alabama Power Company, presented a detailed study of an Energy Waste Survey conducted at the Farm Center. Suggestions made to save energy were (office complex): 1. Remove 6048 watts of lighting, 2. Remove one water cooler and one drink machine, and 3. Turn off air conditioner on weekends; (Farm Center): 1. Cut off air conditioner until one hour before needed, 2. Turn water heater off until needed and, 3. Use lights only when needed.

Hayes, Re-elected

Charles Hayes, III and Ed Compton were re-elected as trustees on the Board of Trustees of Alabama Electric Cooperative at the Board of Trustees annual meeting on May 26, 1978.

Hayes and Compton both serve as representatives of the City of Elba, one of four cities served directly by Alabama Electric Cooperative (AEC) with wholesale electrical power.

AEC is the State's only generation and transmission cooperative. As a cooperative, it is governed by a Board of Trustees composed of two representatives of each of the member systems. The Board determines the need for new generation and transmission facilities by the Cooperative and establishes the policies to ensure that AEC continues to provide reliable electrical power at the lowest possible cost.

Hayes has served on the AEC Board since 1975. He is the chairman of the Utilities Board of the City of Elba. He is the owner of the Hayes Funeral Home in Elba.

Compton is the manager of the Utility Department for the City of Elba. He joined the AEC Board in 1973.

Hayes said he was pleased to have been re-elected and that he would continue to work for the best interests of the community.

Rabid Cats Result In Shots

A sick, stray kitten found in Coffee County last week, and which later died, was found to be infected with rabies.

A resident of the Weeks Bridge Road vicinity found two kittens near the bridge - one of them already dead. He took the other one home, fed and nursed it, but it, too, died within the week. An examination showed that the 6-week-old kitten did have the disease. Consequently, the man and his family had to be vaccinated with anti-rabies shots.

Richard Brown, of the County Health Department, advised everyone with animals - pets of any kind - to be sure they are vaccinated for rabies. Brown has submitted five more heads of animals to be examined, but had not had any report yesterday (Wednesday). Only the one kitten has been positively confirmed as having rabies.

Anyone having any knowledge of these kittens is asked to contact the Coffee County Health Department. There is a possibility that the mother of these kittens could be rabid, also.

A check with Dr. Phillip Hamm, Elba veterinarian, revealed that although he has submitted several heads to the lab, none has been found to be positive.

Both Dr. Hamm and Brown

Graddick Running For Attorney General

District Attorney, Charles Graddick has announced that he will run for Attorney General in the September Democratic Primary. Graddick said he was tired of watching politicians announce their intentions to seek our State's highest prosecution office. "These men," Graddick said, "do not have the qualifications necessary to be Attorney General. Most of the candidates are Legislators who have gained their experience compromising in smoke filled back rooms. Instead of prosecuting criminals, these politicians have represented the special interests."

Graddick said his experience speaks for itself. The young lawyer has prosecuted and convicted hundreds of criminals. Last year Graddick gained statewide attention for successfully prosecuting mass mutilation murderer Thomas Whisenant in Birmingham. He also tried Evans and Ritter, two Indiana parolees who murdered a Mobile merchant and said they wanted to die in the electric chair. In all, Graddick has convicted 97% of the criminals he has prosecuted.

Graddick said he feels the issues will be lenient treatment of criminals, capitol punishment, drug traffic, utilities and victim-witness assistance. He says the fitness of the candidates themselves will also become an issue. Graddick said, "The people are dissatisfied with the legislature's performance. I don't believe they want to re-elect a compromising back room politician by making him the people's number one prosecutor for our next Attorney General." Graddick said he feels that the people will reject the politicians running for Attorney General and will elect a successful, experienced prosecutor for the job.

Graddick, age 33, was born and raised in Mobile and is a graduate of the University of Alabama and the Cumberland Law School. He was elected District Attorney of Mobile County in 1974 and at the age of 29 was Mobile County's youngest D.A. ever. Since his election, Charles Graddick's office has cracked down on dope pushers and major felony violators.

Graddick is a member of several Law oriented organizations, and is also in the American Legion, Jaycees and Alabama National Guard. He is the father of two boys and his family attends St. Paul's Episcopal Church.

The 877th Engineering Company, B. Earth Moving Platoon of Fayette, Alabama, spent its summer camp at Elba recently and began the long awaited extension of the runway at the Elba Airport.

The Company began work on Monday, June 12, and worked 12-hours a day for four days. During that time, approximately 26,000 cubic yards of dirt were moved to fill-in a pond at the North end of the runway. When completed, the runway will be extended 400 feet on the northern end.

LT. John Somerville reported the men completed 3/4 of the project and that another Guard unit would complete the job in the next few weeks. Lt. Somerville stated the 32-man company got in a lot of training while in Elba, and that everyone learned how to operate heavy machinery.

Sgt. Fred Bailey revealed the Company travels to different sites each summer, stating that last year the unit built Army sites at Troy and Brundidge.

Both Lt. Somerville and Sgt. Bailey expressed thanks to the Elba City Council and Police Dept. for their complete cooperation.

It's time we had a governor who is more concerned about people than politics.

Some folks think the politicians have had their day in Alabama. People won't settle for the old ivory-tower attitude in government anymore. They're fed up with politicians who are more interested in boosting their political careers than making government work for us. It's time we put someone in charge who cares about making government meet the needs of real people. Jobs, education, taxes, energy, crime, farming—they're not just items on the political agenda. They're very real problems that touch our lives every day. They're important to us, and we want a governor who won't use them as political pawns.

Fob James cares a lot more about people than he does about politics. He is a man with a deep concern for the people of Alabama. A man who knows firsthand what people want and need from government. A man who is committed to making life better for every person in this state—the poor, the sick, the elderly, the jobless, the working man and woman, the children. Some folks think that's just the kind of man we need in Montgomery.

YES, IT'S TIME FOR A NEW BEGINNING IN ALABAMA—AND FOB JAMES WILL LEAD THE WAY.

New Brockton Methodist Gets New Pastor

Pictured is the new pastor of the New Brockton United Methodist Church, and his family - Rev. and Mrs. Danny Barfield, and new arrival, son, Matthew Quinn.

The Barfields had barely finished their first Sunday at the church when little Matthew announced his impending arrival. He was born Monday, June 12, 1978, in a Dothan hospital, weighing 6 lbs. 14-1/2 ounces.

Mrs. Barfield is the former Mona Bishop.

His death angered some, enraged some, was a cause of celebration for some and caused God's heart to break. But this too, had a purpose. From the earliest history of man sin has been paid for by the blood sacrifice of some animal. The death of Jesus was simply the same thing. No animal could be slain for a whole world for all of history. Only the blood of an innocent man could accomplish that and only Jesus, God's Son, could meet that qualification. His death was caused by and in payment for our sins.

His Resurrection surprised all. It frightened some, set some to thinking, was a fulfilled promise to others, and was a victory for everyone who would believe. The righteousness which is of God by faith." PHIL. 3:9

Thank you, God, for my new ring. Thank you, Sir, for everything.

Tim has died. But the doctors tried. He is gone. But his memory lives on.

No, it is very true, You know that is the way to go. But don't forget, You still have some years to go.

Life is a beautiful thing. Live it while you can. If you don't use your time wisely, It has been used up by YOU! Live it while you can,

Time has passed away, But the memories still stay. You look at yourself - What has happened to you? You have gotten old, Or is it just the way you think?

Your fingers are knobby, Just like Mister Bobby's. Your eyes are sagging, And you are dragging. Ah! The memories of you, And the things you could do. The way you used to hop, And the way you could hop the bobby socks, And the fox trots.

Thank you, little butterfly, for being there, I thank you forever to care. When you're mad, you come to me, When you're glad, you pass by me. What have you seen That is real keen.

Thank you, little kitten for being with her, I thank you for your beautiful purr. Your hair is soft, But what is aloft? The patter of your feet, Now that is real neat.

Thank you, little puppy, for being with him, I thank you for being with Tim. I think he is better, Because I got a letter. But who, what, where and how?

It's a secret, but I know now.

COFFEE CONSERVATION

By: Hughes, Faulk Clark & Schuler

James Shell looking at corn which is almost completely mature. He expects the yield to be above 75 bushels per acre.

SAVE YOUR SOIL WITH CONSERVATION TILLAGE

The proper management of old and new cropland continues to be the principal objective of the Soil Conservation Service. A special publication by the Soil Conservation Society of America states that nationwide, 42 percent of the cropland today receives no conservation treatment. It contributes 92 percent of all sheet and rill erosion, with land capability classes IV, VI and VII accounting for about 40 percent of this. Fortunately only about 15 percent of these land types are currently in cropland. Many factors contribute to erosion of soil on cropland: steep slopes, erodible soils, intense rainfall, high winds and many other man-made or natural causes. The concentrated efforts of many people will be needed to help decrease erosion from our croplands.

Conservation tillage method's when properly employed, can benefit the farmer and the land. First of all, it provides an economically sound tillage method. No-till or minimum tillage methods decrease the number of trips across a field and saves on expenses on fuel and labor. Secondly, conservation tillage provides an optimum plant environment for seed germination and survival. Third, it conserves soil and water resources by maintaining a permanent cover on the soil. Water is not able to run off as quickly, so more soil stays in place.

NOT TILL CORN PAYS OFF

James Shell, Clintonville Community, planted approximately 90 acres of corn last April and many people wondered how it would do on sandy soils. The outcome speaks for itself. Estimated 100 bushels per acre will be harvested from this field. You say well my corn did just as well planted conventionally. How many terraces broke during the heavy rains, how many ditches did you have to go around. James had no breaks or washes because his fields were protected with small grain mulch. More water was stored for the corn, less erosion, and the farmer had better yields than he would have had if he had tilled the field.

CONSERVATION PROBLEMS LISTED

A public hearing to recognize the conservation problems and concerns we face in Coffee County was held in the Community Room of the Coffee County Farm Center, Thursday night, June 15, 1978. Many landowners, public officials and farm organization were present, and active in developing future conservation programs.

Erosion, sediment and unharvested water have plagued our farmlands for centuries. Many conservation programs to date have improved some of the problems, but as yet erosion and its effects on land and rivers have not been corrected to acceptable limits.

The Clean Water Act of 1972 and many environmentalists are pointing at Agriculture to correct their problems by 1983 or possibly face stiff regulation. The Resource Conservation Act of 1977 is aimed at appraising the conservation needs, soliciting public opinion and developing programs to meet these requirements voluntarily.

Martin Motus moderated the meeting and introduced the program. Bill Hughes presented an explanatory slide program on the Resource Conservation Act and everyone then divided into small discussion groups. Each group listed their problems and concerns in order of priority. The number one priority of all the groups was water erosion.

INSULATION CARE—FULLY

More and more families are beefing up the insulation in their homes than ever before. Unfortunately, though, some of them aren't getting what they pay for. Read on.

Get The Facts

By Louise Stokes South Central Alabama Regional Alcoholism Council

In last week's article we talked about the control phase with alcohol and some early warning signals.

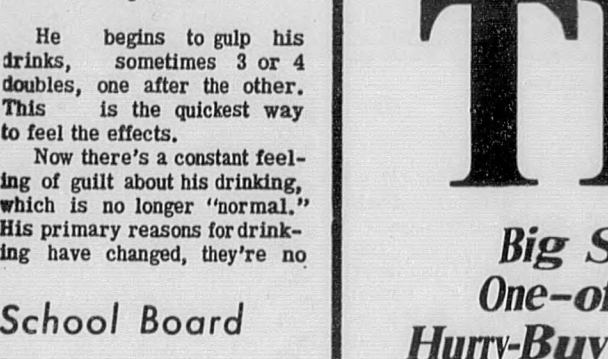

The next phase could well be called the trouble phase. This is where the drinker separates along a thin line that separates alcohol use from alcohol abuse where problem drinking can develop into addiction. It is during this phase that the drinker is least able to evaluate his drinking behavior and be able to do anything about it. Some of the actions of the drinker with regards to alcohol at this time are: sneaking drinks, preoccupation with drinking, palpitations, feelings of guilt, refusal to discuss or listen to anything concerning alcohol, and more frequent blackouts.

When he begins to sneaks drinks the primary reason is no longer social. The effect of the alcohol is the principal reason for drinking. This is a significant and dangerous change. The drinker wants to feel the effects sooner and wants more than others are going to drink.

At this stage drinking is uppermost in his mind. While at work he's just waiting to get a drink - at noon or on the way home. He thinks drinking and having a good time go together without alcohol you can't have a good time.

He begins to gulp his drinks, sometimes 3 or 4 drinks, one after the other. This is the quickest way to feel the effects.

Now there's a constant feeling of guilt about his drinking, which is no longer "normal." His primary reasons for drinking have changed, they're no longer social.

ENERGY TIP

Did you know that about 85 percent of the energy you use in washing clothes goes for heating water? But, by using warm water for washing and cold for rinsing you can cut your energy use by half. If you both wash and rinse with cold, you'll use even less energy.

Sometimes you need to use hot water, though. Use hot for 100 percent white and color-fast cottons, heavily soiled white or light-colored cottons, greasy oil stains which need hot water to melt and remove fats, perspiration and deodorant stains and diapers.

Choose warm for man-made fabrics, knits or wovens, permanent press or wash and wear. Set cold for all rinsing, regardless of washing temperature. Also use cold for washable woolens, dark or bright colors and stains such as blood, fruit juices and milk.

PECANS

Interested in planting some pecans around your place? Dr. T. B. Hagler, one of the top experts in pecan production, advises to get your order in for trees early. By placing orders soon, the best size which is a 2 to 3 feet tree will be available. These cost considerable less than larger pecan trees.

We have a new bulletin which discusses pecan varieties for Alabama. This bulletin also gives information on things like ages that trees bear, the annual production capacity, nut size, disease and insect resistance of the different varieties, date of ripening and maturity.

WHITE MOLD CONTROL

Coffee County peanut producers will need to make a decision soon on whether to use the best to control white mold. Generally, recommended materials should be put on peanuts around July 1 or shortly thereafter for best control. Late planted peanuts may not need the materials until the middle of July. Each individual field is different.

We recommend treating fields which had white mold in them the last time you planted peanuts. Auburn University recommends two materials—Vilax or Terralox 90 granules. We are mailing to all peanut producers information on how to use the recommend-

NEMATODE TESTING

When is the best time to check field crops for nematodes? Dr. Fred Gray and Dr. William Gatzway, our plant pathologists at Auburn, have some convincing information on this. They stress the need to test for nematodes when the crop is at peak growth.

For example, in corn fields where you plan to put peanuts in 1979, you need to check for nematodes after the corn has past the rusting ear stage. It would be ideal to do this within two or three weeks after the corn passes this stage. In fields where you have peanuts now which will be followed by corn in 1979, you can also check those.

Call us at 894-5596 or contact us at the County Extension Office in New Brockton, and we will send you a copy.

VEGETABLES

Commercial vegetable crops are short in this area. I talked with some of the growers associations in Geneva County, and they just haven't received the volume of vegetable crops this year.

Fortunately, many Coffee County farmers and home owners have good gardens. The rains have been very helpful, and perhaps more people planted gardens this year than last. We should have an abundance of peas, butterbeans, beans, corn, tomatoes and other vegetables. A very few vegetables are sold from Coffee County farms and home gardens. This means that for consumers in cities who do not have a garden, vegetable prices will probably be higher than last year.

I wasn't surprised last week to learn that Coach Mance Daughtry had resigned to accept the head basketball job at Pike County High in Brundidge. Coach Daughtry had been at Elba High for 5 years, and told me during the past season he was ready to make a move if a good job came open. Well, Brundidge is not famous for their basketball teams, but there is a lot of talent up there, and I think they will begin to rebuild under Coach Daughtry.

Mance is a hard working coach that believes you must be willing to practice long and hard to be a winner. Mance will put in many long hours, and if his new players listen they'll win a lot of games!

Good Luck, Mance!

The largest crowd in the history of the South Alabama Motor Speedway was on hand Sunday night to watch the Pepsi 150 and they got to see quite a race. Jody Ridley won the race by quite a distance and ran his car the final 10 laps on a flat tire. Ridley had a 2-lap advantage over his nearest rival and was able to guide his wounded race-car to the checkered flag.

The night's biggest excitement came when Ronnie Allison spun-out in turn three and his car exploded into flames. The crowd went into shock until Allison climbed out of the car and put out the flames.

More big races are planned during the summer and as they're announced we'll pass them along.

I received a copy of "Slo Pitch," a magazine devoted to softball. The magazine contains 100 pages of stories, tournament roundups and color pictures, and is really something. To subscribe for 7 big issues send $7.50 to Slo Pitch, 7120 Hayhurst Avenue, Suite 213, Van Nuys, California 91406. It's worth it!

The Men's Softball season only has two weeks left and most of the local teams are getting ready for the upcoming District Tournament to be held July 21, 22 and 23 at Enterprise. The tournament will be for Class B teams in the District, with the top 4 finishers advancing to state competition.

I haven't been fishing in a couple of weeks because I've been too busy with softball. However, this week I'm going to draw a few worms and try to catch some fish.

Till then.....

Coach Mance Daughtry Resigns Basketball Post At Elba High

Mance Daughtry, the head basketball coach at Elba High School for the past five years, resigned on Wednesday, June 21, to accept a similar post at Pike County High School in Brundidge.

Daughtry, who compiled a record of 63 wins and 49 losses at the Elba helm, will serve as head basketball coach and assistant football coach at Brundidge. Coach Daughtry's wife, Donna, will also be employed at Pike County High as a mathematics teacher.

Daughtry began his teaching career at Elba as a physical education instructor at the Elba Middle School, but quickly advanced to the head basketball coaching position. Daughtry's teams were known for their well-disciplined style of play and were always competitive.

Coach Daughtry also served as Junior High football coach at Elba, where his teams were consistent winners. Daughtry also was a scout for the Elba High team.

Elmer Taylor, Supt. of Education at the Elba City Schools, stated his office has already received two applications, but added that a quick decision would be made.

Elba's Johnny Martin Wins State Lefthanders Golf Title

Elba's Johnny Martin fired rounds of 77-74-72 for a 223 total to win the 1978 Alabama State Lefthander's Golf Championship held last week at the Olympia Spa in Dothan.

Martin's 223 total was good enough for a 4-stroke victory over Selma's Bob Johnson, who finished second for the fourth time in five years. Johnson had rounds of 75-78-74 for a 227 total.

Martin, a former pro, opened the tourney with a five-over-par 77, which left him 4-stroke off the pace. "I hit the ball horrible the opening day," stated Martin, "and after the round I went straight to the practice tee and hit a couple of hundred balls."

Johnny came back with a 74 the second day and moved into a tie for the lead. "I hit the ball real good on Saturday," said the two-time winner, "but I used 36 putts. I just couldn't get anything to go in the hole."

Defending champ David Broach, of Tuskegee, moved into a tie with Martin after 5 holes of Sunday's final round, but soon fell back. Bob Johnson had birdies on 9 and 10 to move into a tie after 46 holes of play, but Martin birdied 14 and 15, while Johnson was making bogies, to take a 4-stroke lead. From there, Martin cruised in to take the title. "I hit the ball well Sunday, but still didn't make many putts," said Martin. "I was pleased with my play during the tournament and was very happy to win."

Top finishers were: Johnny Martin, Elba, 77-74-72-223; Bob Johnson, Selma, 75-78-74-227; Marvin Lee, Prattville, 75-80-73-228; David Broach, Tuskegee, 79-75-74-228 and L.C. East, Birmingham, 76-80-74-230.

Cook Chevrolet 17 - 15 - 2 Grime's Oil 4 - 6 - 4

Cook Chevrolet bottled into an early 14-0 lead and was never threatened in defeating Grime's Oil 17-4. Frankie

Jody Ridley Runs Away With Pepsi 150

BY: Greg Brunson

The Pepsi 150 turned out to be a major success for South Alabama Motor Speedway and track promoter, Johnny Williams.

The first of the evening's two races was the Hobby Class mid-season championship race, J. W. Colburn came from the outside of the front row to take the early lead in this big 30 lap event. Colburn led for the first six laps until track record holder, Von Johnson, took over. Johnson opened up about a one-half lap lead and stayed there for the last 24 laps and the checkered flag.

And then it was time for Late-Model Sportsman car to get on their show. Seven cars qualified with times under 17 seconds, and that is really flying. Ronnie Allison posted the best time at 16.68. Jody Ridley, from Chatsworth, Ga., was the second fastest qualifier with a time of 16.72, only .04 behind Allison.

Others in the 15's were Jerry Goodwin, 16.84; Bobby Allison, 16.96; Butch Lindley, 16.97; Jerry Lawley, 16.98; and Red Turner, 16.99.

As soon as the green flag fell, it was evident who would be the car to beat. Jody Ridley came from the outside of the front row to take the lead on the first lap. The first caution flag of the race came out on lap 8 when Jack McGowan spun out in turn two. When the green flag fell again, and Junior Neidechen all spun in turn 2. Allison was running third at that time, but was forced out of the race. The next caution flag came out on lap 46 as Ronnie Allison, who was running a strong second, blew his engine, causing his car to catch on fire. The fire was quickly put out by Allison who escaped without injury.

Jody Ridley continued to lead until lap 74 when he pitted under the yellow flag for new right side tires. This gave Jerry Lawley the lead for 3 caution laps until he also pitted. This gave young Scott Carleson the lead. Carleson held on for the next 15 laps, until Jody Ridley again took control. Ridley led for the last 58 laps and a big victory. Ridley was two laps ahead of the second place finisher, as the checkered flag fell. Ridley finished the race with a flat right rear tire. Evidently, he picked up some debris on the last lap.

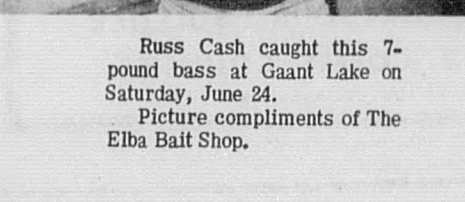

Scott Carleson placed second, followed by Jerry Lawley in third. The top twelve were rounded out by Harry Deaton, Bob Dean, Jerry Goodwin, Butch Lindley, Jack McGowan, Junior Neidechen, Nix Bruce, Dickie Davis and Laron Smith.

NEWS from your PHARMACIST

KRS SCARBOROUGH

There is a constant battle to kill tiny living creatures—it is probably today's greatest war. The effect of chemicals on living creatures is an exacting science known as pharmacology.

Trained pharmacists study the relationship between the dosage of a drug and the effect it has on the body.

Pharmacology is a branch of clinical medicine, closely related with anatomy and pathology. Modification of the functions of organs is a primary duty of a pharmacist. He can, by the use of the proper drug, or drugs, slow down an overactive organ or speed up a sluggish one.

Pharmacists are not pharmacologists, but we stand ready to properly and safely prepare these drugs which are prescribed by your physician.

ESJC Sets Dates

For Freshmen Orientation

Nine two-day orientation sessions for new students are scheduled this summer at Enterprise State Junior College according to Tommy Johnson, dean of student affairs.

Notices have been mailed to the first group scheduled to meet next Thursday and Friday, June 29 and 30, Johnson said.

Other scheduled dates are July 11, 12, 18 and 19, and 25 and 26; August 1 and 2, 8 and 9, 15 and 16, 22 and 23, and 29 and 30.

All students planning to attend next fall will be required to attend one of these sessions or schedule orientation during fall quarter. "During the two-day session, we will complete all necessary placement tests, counseling, help students plan their schedules for fall quarter and for the full two-year in attendance," Johnson said.

Students who have a preference for a certain date may schedule at Johnson's office and be scheduled that date. Otherwise, they will be placed on a schedule in a random sequence. Students who attend the two-day sessions will earn one quarter credit and will not have to schedule orientation fall quarter.
